WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—Administration leaders made a last-minute effort today to block an uprising in the house appropriations committee against President Roosevelt's $875,000,000 emergency relief request. With the committee scheduled to meet shortly after noon to draft the appropriation measure, the leaders spent the morning conferring with the individual members in an attempt to persuade them to stand by the president. The leadership was also represented as considering the wisdom of attempting a fight to restore any cut on the house floor should the committee take adverse action.

Reduction Favored
A survey of sentiment in the committee still disclosed a top-heavy majority favoring a reduction in Mr. Roosevelt's requested amount. Late yesterday, Speaker Bankhead, house majority leader Rayburn and the Democratic whip, Rep. Boland of Pennsylvania, conferred with the three top-ranking members of the committee in an effort to effect an agreement.

Those meeting with the house leaders were Reps. Taylor of Colorado, chairman, Woodrum of Virginia, deficiency subcommittee chairman, and Cannon of Missouri, all Democrats. Woodrum, who is in charge of drafting the legislation, earlier had emerged from a special caucus of Democratic members of his committee with this statement:

"I haven't changed my opinion that the WPA program will stand."

Residents Of Brooklyn(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—Hundreds of residents of Brooklyn, frightened out of their homes last night by a strange rumbling noise in the heavens, today were still groping for some feasible explanation of the unusual phenomenon.

More than 300 panicky Brooklynites swamped the borough police headquarters with frantic calls for assurance that the world was not ending as one patrolman, John Handley, frankly admitted he feared it was. Mrs. Florence Schwartz said the noise sounded to her "like a thousand airplanes all going at once" but Mrs. Prudence Creed asserted "it played the scales from walls to squeals."

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—Film stars and Broadway brumms who listened to the siren crying "I Can Get It for You Wholesale" paced their floors nervously today and wondered where the government lightning which has struck Albert N. Chaperau, George Burns and Mrs. Elma N. Lauer would strike next.

Anticipating that it may be headed in his direction, Jack Benny was in town prepared to spend the day explaining his association, if any, with Chaperau—convicted yesterday on four counts of a smuggling indictment.

It was Benny's second trip to Manhattan in recent weeks in connection with the smuggling probe undertaken by the federal district attorney's office and he arrived with the announced determination to "find out what it's all about."

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—Two of President Roosevelt's chief diplomatic lieutenants—Joseph P. Kennedy, ambassador to Great Britain and William C. Bullitt, ambassador to France—broke all precedent today to testify in secret before a joint meeting of the senate and house military affairs committees.

There was no doubt that the two envoys journeyed to Capitol Hill to tell congress that chaotic conditions in Europe justify the administration's plan to launch a vast rearmament program.

Kennedy and Bullitt entered the committee hearing room with a fanfare provided by cameramen and, curious to walk the halls of congress from dawn to dusk in a hunt for celebrities.

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 10.—A theory of revenge was advanced by police today as they probed the death of Sam Mollise, convicted extortionist whose body was found in a muddy ditch along the old Steubenville Pike with 14 stab wounds in the shape of a heart on his chest, two bullets in his head and one through his heart.

Mollise, 40, had been free on parole. His bullet-riddled and slashed body was found along that section of Steubenville Pike known as "shades of death," an abandoned section of the historic roadway in Robinson township where legend has it bandits once ambushed the Pittsburgh-to-Steubenville stage and massacred the passengers.

Body Is Found
Isalo Sicher, 40, a late retiring resident of the district, discovered the body. Returning home with his wife about 11:30 last night, he told police, he thought he saw someone prowling around his place and went into the house to get his shotgun.

An automobile stopped down the road about 1,000 feet away and, he continued, he heard sounds of a scuffle and then someone cried out: "Please don't kill me—please don't."

Sicher said he heard four shots ring out and then something was tossed from the car before it sped away. Sicher said he met a neighbor, James Curtis, and together they went to the spot where the machine had been parked and found Mollise's body.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—An unexplained threat to "blow the lid off" the situation was attributed today to Senator Robert Reynolds (D) North Carolina, after two of the nation's chief ambassadors told of the European crisis at a secret session of the senate and house military affairs committees.

Reynolds' warning that he would take the "situation" to the floor of the senate for public debate, capped lengthy testimony by Joseph P. Kennedy, ambassador to Great Britain and William C. Bullitt, ambassador to France.

More than a score of members of the military affairs committees, bound to secrecy, refused to discuss Reynolds' threat and would not even hint whether the North Carolinian was incensed by the administration's rearmament program or by any part of this country's policy in Europe's tragic game.

Trial Of Lawrence(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Jan. 10.—Details relative to the forthcoming trial of David L. Lawrence, secretary of the commonwealth and Democratic state chairman who was indicted by a Dauphin county grand jury last week, were expected to be decided today.

Although no definite announcement was made, it was understood that District Attorney Carl B. Shelly would confer with Judge Paul N. Schaeffer, Berks county jurist specially presiding, on the date of the trial and the amount of bond to be requested of Lawrence.

Because of Lawrence's high position no warrant will be issued for his arrest, Shelly said.

Jury To Resume Inquiry
Meanwhile, the jury was scheduled to resume its inquiry this morning into charges aimed at Gov. George H. Earle and other Democratic leaders, alleging graft and corruption in the state government.

The indictment of Lawrence last Saturday was believed to be only the first of a long list of indictments. Lawrence was indicted on charges of blackmail, conspiracy to cheat and defraud, and violation of the election laws.

The jury specifically requested permission to continue its probe into the possible connection of Governor Earle, secretary of property and supplies Arthur Colegrove, and H. H. Temple and E. A. Griffith, dismissed highway engineers, with the oft-referred to Erie "gravel scandal."

ALIQUIPPA, Pa., Jan. 10.—A student strike was started at Aliquippa high school today because the school board refused to provide free buses for pupils.

Principal Robert Crawford said he hadn't checked attendance reports, but he believed only 35 or 40 students were absent. Other observers placed the number as high as 400.

The school board was asked just before Christmas to assume the bus fares. At present the students pay five cents—half fare—for a bus ride from West Aliquippa. Last night the board ruled the request could not be legally granted because no provision for such an item had been made in the budget.

Students, mostly boys, assembled at bus stops this morning and refused to board the buses. After school began they assembled in the main street with signs and prepared to picket the school building.

Telegraph Despatch From Bucharest Denies Story Saying No Confirmation

DANGER REMOVED IT IS NOW BELIEVED

(International News Service)
LONDON, Jan. 10.—The diplomatic correspondent of the London Daily Telegraph reported today that a serious attempt has been made against the life of King Carol of Rumania during the past three or four days, according to advices reaching London.
An Exchange telegraph dispatch from Bucharest denied this story, stating official quarters at the Rumanian quarter disclaimed knowledge of any attempt against Carol.
Confederates in Palace
It appeared, said the Telegraph, that members of the Iron Guard organization plotted the attempt Friday or Saturday and that the circumstances suggested the would-be assassins had confederates within the royal palace.
Following a premature bomb explosion, the Telegraph said, members of the revolutionary group began throwing bombs in the Bucharest suburbs, leading to discovery and arrest of the ring leaders.
Drastic action was reported to have been taken, the paper stated, and danger to Carol was believed to have been removed. Bucharest authorities could be certain all the ring leaders had been apprehended, the Telegraph said.

PRIME MINISTER OF BRITAIN OFF TO VISIT ROME

Flying trips to confer with Hitler and Berchtesgaden and Godesberg, or when he went on his historic trip to Munich.
Pays Little Heed To Hubbub
Neatly turned out in a grey topcoat and black bowler, carrying the inevitable gloves and the umbrella that is rapidly becoming a symbol of his foreign policy, Chamberlain paid little heed to the hubbub his departure caused.
Least of all, to outward appearances, did he heed pamphlets distributed by groups of unemployed, reading:
"What is the value of the prime minister's pretense in supporting a stand for democracy, when a few days later he is hobnobbing with a dictator whose intention is to destroy democracy?"
The mixed farewell accorded Chamberlain on his latest trip seemed partially, at least, symptomatic of the mingled hopes and fears of both Frenchmen and Englishmen that the outcome of his journey will prove real appeasement, and that he will heed the "give nothing for nothing" admonitions handed to him yesterday by his cabinet.

He said the completed bill will be ready for the house Thursday. Administration leaders appeared uncertain of whether the measure would be acted on this week.
May Agree On $750,000,000
Committee members disclosed that many of their number favor reducing the amount to $500,000,000. One of the ranking members expressed the private opinion that the cut, if any, would not amount to that much. He figured $750,000,000 would be the amount finally agreed upon. This is the sum that was in Mr. Roosevelt's budget message, but this relief measure, which immediately followed the one on the budget, increased the figure to $875,000,000.
The committee completed hearings on the legislation yesterday. It was immediately afterward that the Democratic members excluded the Republicans and held a caucus. As soon as this broke up, the house leaders sent for Taylor, Woodrum and Cannon.
Out of the conference with the leadership came a report that the advisability of a floor fight was being considered. A year ago the appropriations committee lopped $500,000,000 off a $1,500,000,000 WPA request but the house restored the cut. There was a possibility that such strategy might be attempted again.

"It is like a stratosphere roller skating rink," one Brooklynite informed the police. One of the most popular was that the noise of generators in a nearby electric plant was shunted into electric conduits and spouted out in Brooklyn."

Deaths of the Day

Miss Betty Weyrick, of West Washington street extension, who for days has been lying critically ill in the New Castle hospital, departed this life at 12:30 p. m. Monday, leaving a host of saddened friends.
Miss Weyrick had been ill for the past five months. Her condition was followed with anxiety by a great number of friends, but in past weeks she had become increasingly worse and little hope was given for her recovery. She was a faithful member of the First Baptist church, the Young People's Choir and the White Rose Guild.
She was born in New Castle, daughter of Peter P. and Daisy Miller Weyrick, who survive. In addition she leaves two brothers, John of Pittsburgh and Daniel of New Castle, and one sister, Mrs. Ward Sexton of Pittsburgh.
The body has been removed to the Darrell Burke funeral home, where the family will receive friends this evening from seven to nine o'clock. The funeral arrangements will be announced later.

Thomas J. Parry, a former New Castle resident, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Parry of Ammanford, England, died Monday at his home, 1480 East 115th street, Cleveland, O., after one week's illness.
Mr. Parry had been organist and choir-master of Grace Episcopal church, Cleveland, for the past 11 years. Before going to Cleveland he was organist and choir-master of Trinity Episcopal church in New Castle.
He played with the Cleveland Symphony Orchestra on several occasions. Before coming to the United States Mr. Parry was organist of the Pro-Cathedral St. Mary's in Swansea, Wales.
He was a 32nd degree Mason and a member of the American Guild of Organists. Besides his wife Mr. Parry is survived by two sisters and two brothers.
Funeral services will be held at Grace Episcopal church, corner of Bolivar and Prospect, Cleveland, O., at three p. m. Wednesday with the rector, the Rev. Franklin Cole Sherman, officiating. Interment will take place in Highland Park cemetery, Cleveland.

Lawrence T. Flynn, aged 81 years, lifelong resident of New Castle, died at his home, 403 Burk street, at 8:40 p. m. Monday, after a year's illness.
Mr. Flynn was born in this city on June 9, 1857. He became a tin mill roller and followed that occupation most of his lifetime. Fifty years ago he married Belle Davis Flynn, who survives.
Besides his wife Mr. Flynn leaves two sisters, Mrs. Margaret Mooney of New Castle and Mrs. Treza Gilmore of Newark, N. J.
Services will be conducted Thursday at 2:30 p. m. from the residence and interment will be in Greenwood cemetery.

Margaret J. Young Funeral.
Homage was paid in the Almira Home Monday afternoon, to the memory of the late Miss Margaret J. Young, resident of the home for the past seven years, and member of a pioneer New Castle family.
Miss Young's funeral was conducted at 2 o'clock in the presence of family, friends and relatives from far and near. Her pastor, Rev. Charles B. Winger, Ph. D., of the Central Presbyterian church, was in charge, assisted by her brother, Rev. Dr. S. W. Young, of Washington, Pa., who read her favorite poem, "When the Tide is Low."
The beautiful hymn, "Good Night Here and Good Morning Up There," was sung during the services by Fred Smith.

The pallbearers were Francis Mersheimer, William L. Pinebrook, Vernon Bright, Charles Bright, Fred Smith and Howard Magill. Interment was made in Oak Park cemetery.
Miss Young led an active and useful life and will be sadly missed by a great host of friends. Many years ago she acted as secretary for the little group of women who met to consider the establishment of such an institution as the Almira Home in New Castle.

She was the second child of Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Young, who were lifetime New Castle residents. Of the six brothers and two sisters in that family, four brothers survive Miss Young. They are: B. U. Young, of Clyde, N. Y.; Rev. Dr. S. W. Young, of Washington, Pa.; John S. Young, of Troy, N. Y.; and Harry M. Young, of Alton, Ill. Surviving also are seven nieces and eight nephews in different parts of this country and Canada. Several cousins live in and about New Castle.

Miss Young, even before the death of her parents, began independent earning. She served as assistant matron first in the Pennsylvania hospital at Philadelphia, and afterwards as matron of the Williamsport hospital. Later she was dietitian at the Bronxville, N. Y., hospital. Dr. Pfohl Talks On War Possibilities Before Club

"Is Europe Entering a War—Can America Stay Out?"

Yes, believes Dr. Arthur J. Pfohl of Indiana, Pa., who spoke Monday afternoon before the Woman's club in Highland U. P. church.

And Dr. Pfohl knows what he is talking about for he is rated among the well informed observers of the European situation. He gets his knowledge first hand, making personal tours of many of the danger spots on the continent.

His reason—Hitler's three point program (two of which have been accomplished) and the third and ultimate goal—German domination over all Eastern Europe, culminating in the conquests of Ukraine in Russia.

"America can stay out of European entanglements, he said, 'by arming itself against propaganda such as flooded this country before and during the World War, and preparing itself for economic sacrifices'."

"To have peace, we must be willing to pay the price of peace. And what that price may involve for America, we need to be thinking about through these days to come."

"In this present situation, with all Europe still standing on the brink of war, there is nothing quite so necessary and important than for some nation of power and influence to dedicate itself to peace. Nothing quite so necessary," he repeated, "than for America to strive to preserve an island of sanity in this western hemisphere until the madness of Europe has burned itself out and there comes a greater detente."

Comparing the probable cost of economic loss in another war to that forced upon America in the World War Dr. Pfohl reminded his audience that the figures are now past the 55 billion dollar mark—beside all the heartache and suffering and death of young manhood. "And the desire to avoid entanglements is not a selfish one," he pointed out, "considering the economic sacrifices America will doubtless be called upon to make if peace is sustained."

"If war should come today, or tomorrow," stressed the speaker, "it will not be fought on moral issues. It will be fought solely for dominance of power. Such fact is history and such will be history."

Symbolizing the voice of the entire German people, Hitler demands

first absolute and equal rights with other nations of the world, he said. In achieving this part of the program he has already scrapped a sacred treaty by robbing Germany and remilitarizing the Rhineland. Second, he demands that all Germans and the territories they occupy must become united with the Fatherland. He has advanced beyond these two preliminary stages and now seems bent on achieving the third and most important phase.

With concessions granted, "it is believed that Hitler is still playing for time, as Germany nor none of the other nations, involved are yet ready for war. As to Hitler's definite promise that he has no further territorial ambitions in Europe and that he has no desire to make war against England or France for any purpose whatever, Dr. Pfohl admits he is not prepared to contradict."

However, he raises the question "How far can one trust the promises and word of honor of any nation in Europe today? That England and France have allowed Czechoslovakia to be dismembered after definite promises were made to the contrary is but an illustration in point, and what it illustrates is simply this: 'That the pledged word of a government today is only as good as its immediate self-interest. And the immediate self-interest of England is not to declare war. She needs more time to prepare.'"

His talk concluded, a forum was conducted during which the large audience was privileged to have cleared up many other questions concerning European problems.

Dr. Pfohl was introduced by Mrs. Elsie Kaplan, chairman of the program committee. Hostesses for the afternoon were Mrs. A. B. Pankhauser and Mrs. George W. Short.

Appropriately, the meeting was opened with music, the assemblage singing the first verse of "America" with Mrs. J. L. Reed at the piano.

During the stay in New Castle of Dr. and Mrs. Pfohl, they were guests in the home of Dr. and Mrs. J. J. McIlwaine, former residents of Indiana, Pa., where Dr. McIlwaine headed a neighboring parish.

Other guests in the group were Mr. and Mrs. William Shuster, of New Wilmington, where the former is now business manager of Westminster college. They also were neighbors of the Pfohs, when Mr. Shuster was connected with Indiana State Teachers College.

Dr. Pfohl Talks On War Possibilities Before Club

"Is Europe Entering a War—Can America Stay Out?"

Yes, believes Dr. Arthur J. Pfohl of Indiana, Pa., who spoke Monday afternoon before the Woman's club in Highland U. P. church.

And Dr. Pfohl knows what he is talking about for he is rated among the well informed observers of the European situation. He gets his knowledge first hand, making personal tours of many of the danger spots on the continent.

His reason—Hitler's three point program (two of which have been accomplished) and the third and ultimate goal—German domination over all Eastern Europe, culminating in the conquests of Ukraine in Russia.

"America can stay out of European entanglements, he said, 'by arming itself against propaganda such as flooded this country before and during the World War, and preparing itself for economic sacrifices.'"

"To have peace, we must be willing to pay the price of peace. And what that price may involve for America, we need to be thinking about through these days to come."

In this present situation, with all Europe still standing on the brink of war, there is nothing quite so necessary and important than for some nation of power and influence to dedicate itself to peace. Nothing quite so necessary," he repeated, "than for America to strive to preserve an island of sanity in this western hemisphere until the madness of Europe has burned itself out and there comes a greater determination to build a civilization of peace and good will."

Comparing the probable cost of economic loss in another war to that forced upon America in the World War Dr. Pfohl reminded his audience that the figures are now past the $5 billion dollar mark—beside all the heartache and suffering and death of young manhood. "And the desire to avoid entanglements is not a selfish one," he pointed out, "considering the economic sacrifices America will doubtless be called upon to make if peace is sustained."

"If war should come today, or tomorrow," stressed the speaker, "it will not be fought on moral issues. It will be fought solely for dominance of power." Such fact is history and such will be history.

Symbolizing the voice of the entire German people, Hitler demands

first absolute and equal rights with other nations of the world, he said. In achieving this part of the program he has already scrapped a sacred treaty by rearming Germany and remilitarizing the Rhineland. Second, he demands that all Germans and the territories they occupy must become united with the Fatherland. He has advanced beyond these two preliminary stages and now seems bent on achieving the third and most important phase.

With concessions granted, it is believed that Hitler is still playing for time, as Germany nor none of the other nations, involved are yet ready for war. As to Hitler's definite promise that he has no further territorial ambitions in Europe and that he has no desire to make war against England or France for any purpose whatever, Dr. Pfohl admits he is not prepared to contradict.

However, he raises the question "How far can one trust the promises and word of honor of any nation in Europe today? That England and France have allowed Czechoslovakia to be dismembered after definite promises were made to the contrary is but an illustration in point, and what it illustrates is simply this: 'That the plighted word of a government today is only as good as its immediate self interest. And the immediate self-interest of England is not to declare war. She needs more time to prepare.'"

His talk concluded, a forum was conducted during which the large audience was privileged to have cleared up many other questions concerning European problems.

Dr. Pfohl was introduced by Mrs. Eliah Kaplan, chairman of the program committee. Hostesses for the afternoon were Mrs. A. B. Fankhauser and Mrs. George W. Short.

Appropriately, the meeting was opened with music, the assemblage singing the first verse of 'America' with Mrs. J. L. Reed at the piano, and Mrs. Harry L. Gornley leading.

During the stay in New Castle of Dr. and Mrs. Pfohl, they were guests in the home of Dr. and Mrs. J. J. McIlwaine, former residents of Indiana, Pa. where Dr. McIlwaine headed a neighboring parish.

Other guests in the group were Mr. and Mrs. William Shuster, of New Wilmington, where the former is now business manager of Westminster college. They also were neighbors of the Pfohls, when Mr. Shuster was connected with Indiana State Teachers College.

Constipated? You
Should Get at the Cause!

Lots of people think they can't be "regular" without frequent trips to the medicine chest. "I just dose up and get it over," they tell you. But doctors know they don't "get it over" at all—until they get at the cause of the trouble! Chances are it's simple to find the cause if you eat only what most people do—meat, bread, potatoes. It's likely you don't get enough "bulk." And "bulk" doesn't mean a lot of food. It's a kind of food that isn't consumed in the body, but leaves a soft "bulky" mass in the intestines and helps a bowel movement. If that fits you, your ticket is a crunchy breakfast cereal—Kellogg's All-Bran. It contains the "bulk" you need plus the great intestinal tonic, vitamin B₁. Eat All-Bran every day, drink plenty of water, and just watch the old world grow brighter! Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

actors related to the little comedy.

Miss Draper is our American Duchess of Drollery. You go to see her. The curtain rises slowly. The stage is bare, except for a table, a sofa, a groundcloth and a curtain.

A woman in her early forties, taller than the average, with jet black, lustrous hair and magnificent dark eyes—magnetic eyes—steps from the wings. Before a packed house, she catches her little dramas single-handed, with no assistant or assistance whatever.

Before your eyes she transforms herself into a southern belle, an Irish peasant, an Italian beggar or a Scotch immigrant, marvelously and to the life. She is her own author, stage director, manager and cast.

Miss Draper's grandfather was Charles A. Dana, the great editor of the old New York Sun. Shrewd and discerning critics have called her the greatest actress in the world—greater than Garbo or Katherine Cornell—greater even than Ada Rehan and Mrs. Fiske and Sarah Bernhardt of the past. Honors have been showered upon her gifted head.

The pope has received her at the Vatican. She is the only actress who was ever presented at the court of St. James. Scorning publicity she has never been interviewed. From the stage she retires behind the veil of impenetrable seclusion and mystery. How does she achieve her amazing effects? No one knows. Possibly with those amazing eyes—those strange and glowing mesmeric eyes.

Find Rare Newspaper File
In Office At Court House

A dimly-lighted, file-sheltered storage shelf of one of the offices in the Lawrence county court house has turned up for the new Lawrence County Historical society "one of the most complete and most elaborate" Lawrence county newspaper files ever seen here. Attorney Charles H. Young, society president, disclosed today.

The county commissioners over the week-end voted to present the file—88 heavily-bound volumes—to the society for future preservation. The volumes were immediately transferred to the free public library, where they will be kept until the historical group establishes its own depository.

It is believed that an old state law, possibly repealed now, required county authorities to maintain the files in past years. It is thought that most of the county papers since 1848 are preserved in the volumes. The file was kept up until 1920 or around then.

"Few historical societies," President Young remarked today, "get such a start as this."

He said other articles of historical value are being donated by citizens.

Operations At Washington, Pa.,
Plant Suspended

(International News Service) WASHINGTON, Pa., Jan. 10.—Operations at the Washington Tin Plate Company were suspended today as company officials and union representatives remained deadlocked in a pay cut dispute.

John F. Kraft, head of the company, said the concern was unable to meet competition unless an adjustment was made in wage rates. Members of the CIO's Steel Workers Organizing Committee however, voted against taking the proposed cut.

Previously the company had dealt with the Watipco employees, an independent union which claimed 500 of the 550 men on the payroll, within its ranks. The National Labor Relations Board in a recent ruling, however, ordered the company to withdraw recognition of the union.

Indiana Fire Loss
Estimate $100,000

(International News Service)

INDIANA, Pa., Jan. 10.—The three-story Hetrick building here was destroyed by fire last night, causing damage estimated by firemen today to amount to $100,000.

Firemen from Homer City, Clymer and Blairsville aided four local companies in their two-hour battle to subdue the flames. National Guardsmen, who had been drilling in the armory, joined with police in holding back the curious crowd.

Fire Chief James L. Jack, of Indiana, said the damages to the Hetrick building, located across the street from the court house, would amount to about $75,000 and smoke and water would cause an additional $25,000 loss on adjoining properties.

SCHOOL NURSE ONE OF B. P. W. SPEAKERS

The monthly business meeting of the Business and Professional Women's club was held in the Green Room of the Y. W. C. A. at 5:45 Monday evening, with 29 members and one guest present. Three new members Misses Minnie Davidson, F. Gertrude Eppinger and Mary E. Martin were introduced to the club in a recognition service.

Miss A. Pearl Hockenberry reporting for welfare committee stated that as a result of the club's Christmas party over 120 toys and other gifts had been distributed among 26 families where the children received toys from no other source. This committee also took care of five eye cases during the month, new glasses being provided in four of the cases.

Miss Katharine Melvin, school nurse, was the guest of the club and gave a demonstration of the audiotape, an apparatus used for testing the hearing ability of school children. This is one means of detecting the cause of a child failing to keep up with the other students in the same grade. If the hearing is found to be seriously impaired, the parents are advised and the services of the family physician or ear specialist suggested.

A group of club members are going to Pittsburgh Sunday, January 15, to attend services in the East Liberty Presbyterian church. Those members wishing to join the party should contact Miss Eleanor Smith. Last night's meeting was in charge of the membership committee. The club will meet again on Monday, January 16, at the same time and place.

PWA Projects Will Get Aid Next 18 Months

Forecasts Aid Of $107,500, 000 Next 18 Months For Pennsylvania Projects

MANY PROJECTS BEING OUTLINED

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Jan. 10.—Forecasting provision of more than $107, 500,000 in wages in Pennsylvania
during the next 18 months, Maj. G.
Douglas Andrews, state PWA administrator, disclosed today that 282 municipalities will receive "needed" public improvements during that period.

Andrews, revealing an analysis of the department of labor, said that at least $36,500,000 in payrolls will be created at PWA-aided projects.
An additional $71,000,000, he added,
would result from orders for construction materials.

Salary Benefits
At the same time, Andrews indicated that the PWA's construction program would bring salary benefits of approximately $90,500,000 to
"off-site" employment—labor created in mining, transportation and manufacturing industries, and in administration.

The analysis showed these additional features:

1. The 283 public improvements, including schools, water works, sewerage disposal plants, hospitals, highways and bridges, would cost more than $136,000,000.

2. Probable rapid rise of PWA employment, now estimated at 12-570, as the heavier construction phases of the various projects are reached.

3. Sharp stimulation for heavy industries, both in Pennsylvania and towns scattered over the nation.

For every two men at work actually building a PWA project, the report said, five others are at work in forests, mines, factories, mills and on transportation system preparing and moving the building materials used.

Heroic Cops Trap Smugglers

New York policemen, posing as crooked cops, helped land contraband from the Italian steamer Ida, then seized three opium smugglers and $100,000 worth of dope. Patrolman James Rute (left) was shot in the hand during the waterfront gun battle that resulted. Detective John Sweeney (right) was one of the trio who duped the crooks.

Ice Takes Part In Activities At Miami, Fla.

Lands With 547 Other Airplanes At Miami Municipal Airport

William Ice and his mother, Mrs.
W. P. Ice are taking part in a gala social whirl of activities being provided by the city of Miami, Florida, and the birdmen of that district.
Ice and his mother landed at Miami
Saturday along with 547 other airplanes.

Ice was taking part in a tour of small airplanes from various parts of the country, flying to Miami to take part in the opening of the Miami air races. He stated in a letter sent back that he witnessed the unveiling of a monument dedicated to the memory of Amelia Earhart.

Mrs. Ice and her son were guests on a deep sea trip on Sunday. Ice stated that in flying near the shoreline in Florida, the pilots met difficulty in the form of sea gulls. The birds would take after the plane.
One of the birds struck one of the planes and tore away part of a wing.

After the Miami races, Ice plans to return to New Castle in his ship.

SECURITY OF HOMES

Down through the ages man's home has been his most cherished possession. Year in and year out through wars, panics and depressions, man must have shelter.

Long-term, amortized, first mortgage loans on homes is one of the safest and most stable types of SECURITY known.

Your savings invested in the New Castle Mutual are loaned on carefully selected first mortgages on homes in this Community . . .
many of these loans are being made doubly secure by the insurance of the individual mortgage by the FHA.

Back of all this security stands an agency of the United States Government absolutely guaranteeing the safety and security of each individual investor's account up to $5000.

Dr. Dafoe's Column On The Quintuplets And The Care Of Your Children

Copyright 1938, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

Few things will disturb a child mentally more than being continually checked up and reprimanded for using his left hand instead of his right. I know it has caused a great deal of unhappiness to children and to the parents who try to change the natural tendency born in some to use the left hand in just the way others do the right.

All this disturbance is quite unnecessary, too, for it has never been shown that left-handed people were slow or backward or not just as good as any right-handed. Not only that but there is evidence to bear out the assumption that a good deal of injury may result from forcing a left-handed child to use his right hand.

We know that in the brain the centers for the control of speech and hands are situated next to each other, on the side controlling the hand naturally used in writing. All sorts of tests have been made in connection with changing left-handed children over to right, but so much uncertainty exists as to the cause and the results of left-handedness that I think it is wise to leave the left-handed child alone—at least until there is more agreement among psychologists as to the proper method of training.

The child who is always being checked up by his family or by his teacher is naturally harassed and much disturbed in his thinking. Someone is always irritating him by suddenly breaking his line of thought with an adjuration to use the other hand. This nervous strain and irritation has even been known to lead to stammering and to nervous tics.

Sometimes a child who has begun stammering for this reason gets back his unimpaired power of speech when he is allowed to revert to his left-handedness. I have known some people who, natural left-handers, established the use of the right hand without obvious injury. However, the proper means of doing this and of preventing the undesirable effects are uncertain.

If you watch your child between the age of one year and 15 months, you will usually determine whether it is right or left-handed. Sometimes signs appear earlier but not often. When you do find he is left-handed, my advice to you is not to make him use one hand more than the other.

The objections to left-handedness seem to date back to an old superstition that it indicates inferiority, mentally and physically. I am sure there isn't anything to such a belief. Men I have known who were left-handed have dispelled that idea from mind, and history bears it out too. And as for the physical inferiority, "Lefty" Grove and a few other southpaws in the National and American leagues will have something to say.

Of the quintuplets only Emilie is definitely left-handed. It was with her left hand she first manipulated her spoon successfully in February, 1936. Marie started with the left, and then gradually changed to the right, until by December of that year she seemed to have gotten over any left-handedness she had. Annette, Yvonne and Cecile have apparently always been right-handed.

Spanish Government Troops Claim Further Successes In War

Advance Made In Past 6 Days

Franco Concentrating Forces Preparatory To Launching New Attack

INSURGENTS CLAIM SOME GAINS MADE

(International News Service) HENDAYE, Franco-Spanish frontier, Jan. 10.—Chief military action in the Spanish civil war shifted to the southwestern Extremadura front today as the government claimed further successes there following capture of Azuaga, mountain city 60 miles northwest of Cordoba.

A communique issued at Barcelona stated government troops have advanced 45 miles on the Extremadura sector in the past six days. The left flank, it was claimed, under leadership of General Jose Miaja, has passed well beyond Azuaga and occupied the approaches to the strategic town of Valverde de Llerena, near the vital Seville-Badajoz railway.

In addition, the communique said, Miaja's troops occupied Montemurillo and the approaches to Castuera.

Concentrating Forces Generalissimo Francisco Franco was reported concentrating all his available forces, including reserves and war planes, from the Catalan front in the neighborhood of Castuera. Government intelligence advisers indicated he may shortly launch a counter-attack on the Extremadura battle ground, and a battle of major proportions is anticipated. The Catalan front was reported comparatively quiet.

A Barcelona communique issued shortly before midnight said that in addition to Azuaga on the Extremadura front Miaja's army occupied the villages of Coronada, Granja de Torre Hermosa, Cotto, Mariscal, Morale, Nava, Gamonal, Quejigo, Retamal, Cerrejónillo and the heights of Sierra Tejoneras.

This bulletin also admitted an insurgent advance on the southern end of the Catalan front, conceding the insurgents had captured Uldemolins, Albarca and Villa Nueva in a drive against Tarragona.

The insurgents claimed they were in control of the plains of Urgel and that they had, in 17 days of fighting, captured half of Catalonia.

AROUND CITY HALL

City Treasurer C. C. McKibben recommended to council that a refund of $24.97 be made to the L. S. and T. Company bank. It appears the bank paid taxes, plus one per cent penalty, amounting to $117.89, on a building recorded in the name of Dufford Bros. 515 South Mill St. The tax was paid in error. The payment was intended to be paid on the property recorded in the name of W. F. Dufford & Company, rear South Mill street, in the amount of $92.92, which included one per cent penalty. The communication was referred to the solicitor's office.

City council ordered paid to the Phomaire Play Pipe company $104, fire department director J. M. Rice upon recommendation of Fire Chief A. P. McIlwain, having bought two pairs of Phomaire... Among the larger bills ordered paid Monday was $6,020.84, to the Pennsylvania Power company for current of which $5,591.90, was for street lights, last month. The city yet owes a balance of $13,920.54, to the company.

Mrs. Fannie Weinberg has asked council for a refund of taxes paid on a garage and store in Moravia street. The buildings were removed September 1, her communication stated. The communication was referred to the city assessor for advice.

Council today was advised by the City planners that they recommend a change from a C residence to a Local Business district of that territory described in a petition as follows: bounded on the south by Division street, east by Mable street, north by an alley and west by Fairview avenue. The communication from the City planners was signed by Miss Helen Sheaffer, secretary.

Should one person be responsible for the smashing of glass shields in 25 parking meters and providing he is caught, prosecuted and convicted Mayor Charles E. McGrath has the power under an existing ordinance to levy fines totalling $1,550.00. Upon conviction for damaging one meter a person may be fined as high as $50.00.

When council met Monday afternoon they adopted an ordinance which will result in the grading of Crescent avenue, so-called because of its shape. Property-owners will pay for the materials and the work will be done by employees of the WPA.

It is likely that some time today council will decide whether or not Carmi Glover, sewer foreman for the city, will receive a raise. He is now paid $120.00 monthly. Some other employees in the department of streets, which includes the sewer bureau, receive more than that amount, yet Glover is a foreman. The council has decided to give Chauncey Davis, sanitary officer $142.00 monthly, because of his rating under civil service law as a policeman. Under the law he can be called upon by the chief of police to perform police duty when such a need exists. At present, however, Davis' duties consist of seeing that everything is kept sanitary in public places.

DAILY DOZEN

(From the Medical Society of the State of Pennsylvania)

Death is common to all people. The next most common condition is coryza—the common cold.

That's what makes the common cold common.

As with death, there is no preventive for the common cold.

There is sure prevention of smallpox, diphtheria, typhoid.

All methods used to prevent the common cold fall far short.

Sudden changes in temperature and humidity bring on colds.

Hence the prevalence of colds during winter months.

Most often one "catches" a cold from another.

However, some develop a cold within themselves.

With causative agent present, the body weakened, a cold follows.

Avoid infection, build immunity by keeping the body fit.

Maybe the democracies need a little shoving around. Nothing unites a family like a black eye contributed by an outsider.

Civil court opened Monday in the two courtrooms with a number of suits listed for trial. Several cases were settled before they were called for trial, and two cases got under way.

In courtroom number one case of Roy M. Tabor against W. E. Baldwin started before Judge W. Walter Braham. This is a case of where two men agreed upon the operation of a dairy, with Tabor operating it. He is asking for an accounting.

In courtroom number two, before Judge Thomas W. Dickey, the case of Samuel Battersby against Orville and Clyde Lewis got under way. This case is one in which Mr. Battersby claims his automobile was damaged in an accident that occurred on Crescent avenue on February 6, 1938.

In the past several years it has been nearly as difficult to get delinquent tax collectors for the various townships as it is to get a pass to a coronation. Recently the county commissioners decided to have one man act for all the townships, and put John Sickafuse on the job.

In the short time he has been on the job he has collected over $15,000 in delinquent taxes, a much better record than all the collectors had for the same period a year ago or two years ago.

Two more divorces were handed down Monday by Judge Thomas W. Dickey. Myrtle Adella Schuffert is granted a divorce from Henry Schuffert, Jr., and Irene M. Engler is granted a divorce from Paul R. Engler.

Mention has been made in this column of a "standard" sentence for persons convicted or who plead to the charge of driving while intoxicated. This does not mean that every sentence is the same, but that a fine, usually one hundred dollars, and a thirty-day jail sentence, is imposed.

The accused drivers seem to be getting a standard number of drinks. In most cases the accused explains that he had two drinks; sometimes two bottles of beer; sometimes two drinks of whiskey. Commenting upon the similarity of the drinks in most cases, Judge Dickey recently said in sentence court: "Some day we may have a driver in here who had three drinks."

Huge Crowd To Witness Game

Ellwood And New Castle Teams Play At Lincoln Gym Tonight

TEAMS ARE TIED FOR LEAGUE LEAD

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 10.—With the outcome of the Ellwood-New Castle basketball clash tonight at Lincoln gym for the Section 3 supremacy being the main topic of conversation about town and with interest soaring like the mercury on a July day, seats will be as scarce as a caviar at a company mess. The reserved section is entirely sold out and if the advance sale of other tickets is a barometer, those planning to attend should arrive early.

Ellwood City has struck rock bottom in the section for a number of years by losing its major games, but "it's always darkest before dawn" and signs of light are beginning to show in the Blue and White's horizon.

Coach Jerry Newton's courtiers are ready and waiting to bring forth the sunrise.

Time after time, coaches of the district have watched their superior teams "fall by the wayside" from nothing more than a case of "hitters" as the players came up against the New Castle aggressors.

Coach Newton has tried to instill into the players the stoic philosophy of "the bigger they come, the harder they fall" and with the added advantage of their home court the Wolverines are going to give the County seaters a severe test.

With the exception of the lightning quick Bombyk, the teams are about evenly matched in stature, although the veteran Ellwood crew seems to have the edge in experience, but New Castle fared better than the locals in their pre-season games. In the section games, New Castle has topped New Brighton and Ambridge while Ellwood beat Aliquippa and Beaver Falls.

Ellwood's mentor is satisfied with the team's defense and for the past few days has been devoting the practice time to improving shooting, in an attempt to build up the number of shots that are accurate.

In the preliminary game at 7 o'clock Coach Croft will use a complete sophomore lineup reserving the varsity players for the main fray at 8 o'clock. He has selected Matlocks and Lanzl, forwards, Tanner, center, and Seeteh and Metrangal, guards. Joe Navolio will be the official.

Snyder and Mackey will officiate for the main game.

Junior Chamber In Session At Hotel; Sowersby New Secretary

Installation of 19 new members, appointment of new committees for the closing six-month period of the 1938-39 year, selection of a new secretary and director and a discussion of organization business marked last night's well-attended meeting of the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

President Presley N. Jones officiated over the induction of the new members, part of the group won to the organization by the current membership campaign.

Francis S. Sowersby, chosen the new secretary and also named as a director, succeeds L. J. Lewis, secretary of the junior chamber for several terms. Lewis' formal resignation was accepted earlier in the meeting.

Plans for the junior chamber's fourth anniversary banquet in The Castleton on Monday evening, January 23, were furthered.

Several industries which the group has had under investigation were discussed last night. The tax equalization survey was also given further attention. It was reported that the plastics industry, under investigation by the junior chamber for some time, has turned over its reports to the Greater New Castle Association for consideration and further action.

President Jones said a special committee, headed by C. Edson Rummel, will arrange a "major activity" within a very short time.

Lutheran Church Annual Meeting

Four Deacons Elected Monday Night By St. Paul's Congregation

St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran church, Rev. A. M. Stump pastor, had the annual congregational meeting Monday evening. Reports of all the officers and the societies were received. In spite of the rather difficult economic conditions of the times the reports show up remarkably well. The societies are functioning and are in healthy condition. A brotherhood was recently organized thus completing the full complement of organization in the church, namely a Ladies Aid, two missionary societies, two Luther leagues, two scout troops, besides several organized classes in the Sunday school.

Plans were inaugurated towards the better management of its Benevolent interests by centralizing the transmitting of all such funds thru one treasurer for the whole congregation. Sinking funds were set up to meet the various obligations of the church by building up reserve funds in advance so as to meet all obligations as presented.

The annual visitation recently completed promises a slightly better support than the previous year. The following deacons were elected to serve for three years: Joshua Morgan, Ludwig Snyder, W. J. Knobloch and Michael Bender of Wildwood avenue.

Sports Fiesta Here Tonight Includes Basketball, Skating And Hockey Game

TUSSLE STARTS AT 8:00 O'CLOCK

One of the most formidable basketball clubs in Pennsylvania Polish Falcon circles tops the sports fiesta program carded for The Arena tonight.

The floor attraction brings the crack New Kensington Polish Falcons against the smooth passing New Castle Boosters, at 8 o'clock. Only several weeks ago the Kensingtoners handed the locals a setback. The Frasermen will step out to avenge the loss. The game looms as one of the outstanding battles of the year. The Falcons have several unusually talented sphere handlers who whip that apple around in professional style. Coach Fraser plans using Johnny Cwik and Francis Wainio at forward. "Blackie" Nocera at center, Emil Grommes and "Pop" Adams at the guards.

New Kensington gave local fans an inkling of their prowess on the court by handing the K. Pulaski "Big Five" outfit a neat shattering. The scorers were dizzy marking up a 60-27 count. The visitors come here confident of chalking up their third triumph over a New Castle combination. One of the biggest crowds of the year is expected to watch the exciting set.

Completing tonight's sports fiesta will be a skating party and a roller hockey game. Immediately following the floor tussle the roller skating party will get underway. The hockey battle is slated later in the evening.

(International News Service)
LOS ANGELES, Jan. 10.—Despite much current gossip that Henry Armstrong, the only fighter to hold three different championships at the same time, will be far from his best when he meets Baby Arizmendi at the Olympic Arena tonight, he was, nonetheless, a heavy favorite today as weighing-in time neared.

As recognized by the California State Athletic Commission, the fight will be for the world's championship, and it will be the fifth meeting of the pair.

Should the plan materialize, New Castle will again dominate its former predominant post in district baseball circles. Dailey has often told me that he'd like to see this city represented in the league.

The working plan . . . Briefly, the plan calls for a set amount of cash to be supplied by local officials . . . The major league club taking over the local club, should the plan go through, will place the same amount of cash as that posted by local officials . . . Something new in the rassling game is staged at Miami, Fla., where the loser of the bout gets a dunking in the swimming pool. Say, how about the customers in the first row?

MIDGET LEAGUE TO MEET
There will be a meeting of the midget league managers and officials at the "Y" tonight at 4:30 o'clock for the purpose of organizing a basketball league. Bill Winters will have charge of the meeting.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Everytime a fist performer blossoms forth into fame the boys from hither and yon pay great credit to the performer and in some instances, forget the man who made it possible. During our years of dabbling with the fight game, as displayed by the pro and amateur fistic knights, we have seen some stars who possibly would not have gone through the preliminary ranks without proper tutoring. In the latest case, Billy Conn, the Pittsburgher, is the one who took Dame Opportunity by the hand when he fought Fred Apostoli in New York City, and today he is ranked among the best. However, no one should forget Johnny Ray, his teacher and manager. Ray had considerable to do with Conn's rise. In fact, when we last saw Conn perform we could see certain characteristics in his fighting which were employed by Johnny Ray when he was "going good." And further, time and again Conn would display the same style of boxing Ray showed when he fought some of the best fighters in the country. In Conn's best upward, there is no doubt Billy will give Ray credit. Naturally he had to have something and this aided and abetted by Ray's teaching and piloting worked him into the spot that found Billy making good. There's sufficient praise enough to go all around so let us from hither and yon give some to Ray.

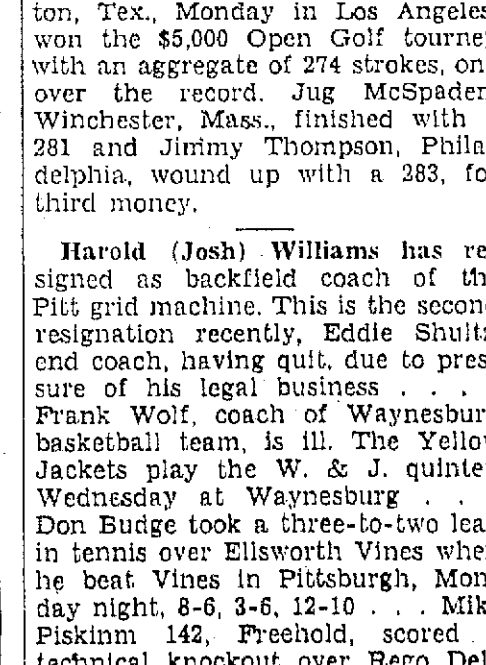

Many odd incidents occur in the Big Woods. For instance, the January issue of the Pennsylvania Game News says that George W. Gates of Beavertown, had a peculiar affair happen. He saw his dog chase a rabbit directly toward a big buck. It was a surprise encounter all around, but the big buck acted first, catching the dog on his antlers and throwing him back over his head. The dog yelped at this and streaming from his side made a beeline for home. And there was the buck that jumped out a roundhouse window. The buck raced into the Derry engine house of the P. R. R. He leaped through the ash pit and leaped toward the turn table. After running around inside the building the animal leaped through an open window and ran toward Chester Ridge. Charles F. Stambaugh in his Quieres and Answer department in the Pennsylvania Game News says that skunks taken legally during the open season may be possessed alive indefinitely without a permit. It is legal to hunt them at night with a club but not with a light. It is not legal to go wild duck hunting with a 22-caliber rifle. The use of a shotgun not larger than 10-gauge, only, is required.

Twenty-five race horses were burned to death in a fire that razed the main stable of the Hurricane breeding farm with a total loss of $200,000. It was owned by John Sanford. The fire occurred at Amsterdam, N. Y. Among the horses destroyed were Supply House, one of the best steeplechase horses in the country; Philma Deuts Sun House, which were purchased last year at a reported sum of $15,000. Defective wire was believed to have been the cause of the fire.

Brooklyn has mailed Van Lingle Muno a contract for 1939 which shows he is to receive $5,000, or twice that amount, less than last year. Van Mungo said at Pageland, N. C., it was an "invitation to quit baseball" . . . Duquesne basketballers lost to De Paul at Chicago, 46-40 . . . Whizzer White, the Colorado athletic star, has arrived at Oxford to take advantage of study. He may study law . . . Touchdown club of Washington has presented the Walter Camp memorial trophy to Davey O'Brien, T. C. U. and All-American back . . . Jimmie Dean, Sun House, Tex. Monday in Los Angeles, won the $5,000 Open Golf tourney with an aggregate of 274 strokes, one over the record. Jug McSpaden, Winchester, Mass., finished with a 281 and Jimmy Thompson, Philadelphia, wound up with a 283, for third money.

Harold (Josh) Williams has resigned as backfield coach of the Pitt grid machine. This is the second resignation recently, Eddie Shultz, end coach, having quit, due to pressure of his legal business . . . Frank Wolf, coach of Waynesburg basketball team, is ill. The Yellow Jackets play the W. & J. quintet, Wednesday at Waynesburg . . . Don Budge took a three-to-two lead in tennis over Ellsworth Vines when he beat Vines in Pittsburgh, Monday night, 8-6, 3-6, 12-10 . . . Mike Piskin, 142, Freshhold, scored a technical knockout over Rego Dell, 141, Seranton, in the fifth round in Seranton, last night.

Fine Program For Sportsmen Tonight

Grove City Meets Titans Tonight

Schools Resume Athletic Relations On New Wilmington Floor

HARD BATTLE IS SURE; STARTS AT 8:15

(Special To The News)
NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Jan. 10.—Westminster will try to annex its fourth straight victory of the season, tonight, when the Titans play host to the Grove City Crim-jon squad, in resuming athletic relations on the floor after a five-year intermission.

The last Titan-Grove City game in 1933 ended with a 50-15 victory for the Titans, and a complete break in athletic relations. In the all-time record, however, the Titans have won only a two-game margin, 20 games won to 18 for Grove City.

Coach Washabaugh will have no scoring ace on his Titan five this year, as every game has turned up with a different point-getter. Most consistent of the point-getters, however, have been Jim Wilson, Mel Miller and Joseph Hetra.

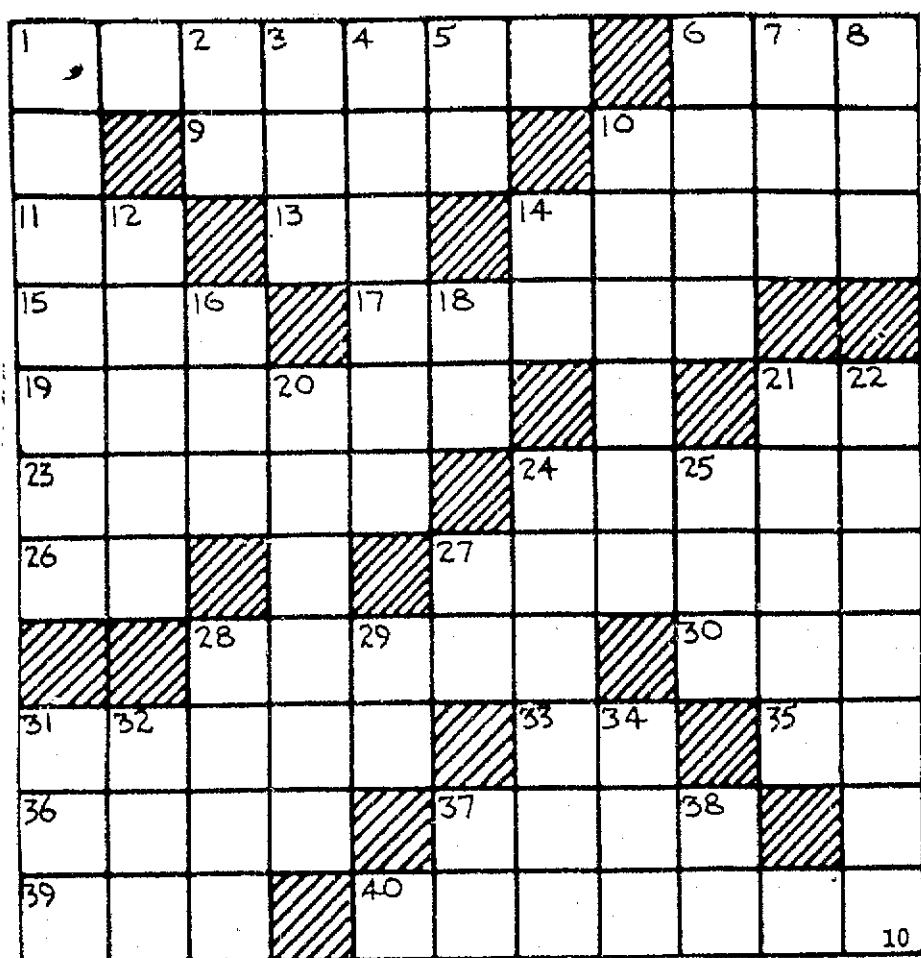

Starting in the lineup tonight for Westminster will probably be Wilson and Mel Miller at guards; Wask at center; and Spack and Patton or J. Hetra at the guards. Substitutions this year, for the first time in Pasarella's tenure, is not a particular problem, since Coach Washabaugh will have a second-string five, almost as good as his first, to shove into play.

This will be a hard week for the Titans, with games Thursday night at Geneva, and Saturday night at Pitt, in addition to Tuesday's fray with the Grovers on the New Wilmington floor. The game is called for 8:15.

North hill residences will kindly note that speed limit signs have been posted on Albert street . . . twenty-five miles per hour is the limit and be sure to look up and down at each intersection . . . and folks who live on streets crossing Albert will kindly make a mental note that Albert is a through street . . . that means that you must come to a complete stop. Too many accidents have been caused by folks dashing across this busy street. Now you folks on the East Side are rather lucky in having a direction arrow placed on the traffic light at the corner of Butler and Washington . . . we hear that another arrow will also be placed there for the motorists that intend to go straight up East Washington . . . the light then will be like the one at the corner of Croton and Washington and the Grant and N. Jefferson streets. Traffic is now under control in New Castle . . . thanks to Tommy Jones, traffic commissioner and the law enforcing policemen.

There will be big doings down in Harrisburg this coming week . . . things will all be a muddle . . . who is staying, who is leaving . . . there has always been a certain amount of changing jobs, but the Democrats start the ball rolling when they were in control . . . and we think it will not stop rolling until the bottom is reached. Politics is a funny thing.

The coming city election should be one that will create a little interest . . . We elect a mayor and a couple of councilmen. So fire away boys.

Here is an idea for the fathers of the city . . . why not make inquiries as to the different types of street washing machines. New Castle has a tendency to be dirty . . . because we do burn soft coal and the different plants do make dirt . . . it would cost very little to keep the streets washed down, especially the downtown streets. So may we make a suggestion that a force water cleaner be put on your list of ideas.

Modest Rally In Stock Market

Decline Of Four Previous Sessions Is Ended In Day's Transactions

By LESLIE GOULD

International News Service Financial Writer

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—The stock market staged a modest rally today, ending the decline of the four preceding sessions. Trading was extremely quiet, and top gains were limited to about a point.

Business news was of a more encouraging nature, including the further advance in steel operations to 51.7 per cent of capacity.

Steels, motors, aviation and mail orders were in the van of the upswing.

Just before noon aviation picked up momentum on the upside.

Douglas spurred more than 2 points, while United Aircraft gained about half as much.

In the strong steel group, Bethlehem U. S. Steel, Youngstown and Crucible each climbed more than a point. Similar advances were made by Industrial Rayon, Chrysler, Libby-Owens-Ford, Westinghouse Electric, DuPont and U. S. Gypsum.

There were a few scattered backward issues, including American Can, Owens-Illinois Glass and some of the farm implements.

Commodities showed little. Grains slipped fractionally.

State Department Of Penal Affairs Plan Suggested

Of All Prisoners And Prisons

WOULD RELIEVE WELFARE BOARD

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Jan. 10.—Pennsylvania's lawmakers were urged by Secretary of Welfare Charles J. Engard today to establish a department of penal affairs with complete authority over all prisons and prisoners.

From a study described by him as "Pennsylvania's perplexing penal problem," Engard evolved a plan whereby a cabinet secretary of penal affairs would coordinate the present separate responsibilities and procedures in the administration of the state's penitentiaries, county prisons and jails, and industrial schools.

The commonwealth's entire crime-correction program, probation, paroles, pardons and vocational training, would be directed by one agency, according to Engard's proposal.

Board Of Pardons

The welfare secretary suggested that parole and pardon appeals be weighed by a board of pardons composed of five full-time salaried members, a psychiatrist, and attorney, a penologist-sociologist, and two non-professional men appointed by the governor and approved by the senate.

Robert Taylor Gets Boost In Salary

By MILTON HARKER
(Copyright, 1939)
(International News Service)

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 10.—Robert Taylor, the awkward college boy who rose to stardom almost overnight, celebrates the fifth anniversary of his entrance into the movies on Feb. 4 and already he has good cause to celebrate.

M-G-M has handed him a new contract, upping his salary from $3,000 to $5,000 a week. As he gets paid 40 weeks a year, that gives him a handsome, husky actor, the neat sum of $200,000 annually.

At the moment Bob is in New York for a week's celebrating. He recently completed "Stand Up and Fight," the third straight film in which he takes a good bit of knocking around, and he doesn't have to report back to the studio for a few weeks. Probably "Northwest Passage," to cost $2,000,000, will be his next, but the studio may sandwich in another picture before he goes up to location in Idaho.

Despite Bob's big salary rise, he's got to go a little yet to catch up with Wallace Beery and Clark Gable on the M-G-M payroll. Each knocks off $7,500 for each of 40 weeks a year.

At that Nelson Eddy makes more than any other star on the lot, grossing almost a half a million dollars every good year. Eddy, however, has four sources of income, the screen, radio, his concert tours and his records. His expenses are high, too. Friends say when these and taxes are paid he has a top of $150,000 a year left.

Probably the only entertainer who grosses more than Eddy is Jack Benny, who reportedly gets $480,000 a year from his radio program. Jack also gets $100,000 for each picture. He made "Artists and Models Abroad" for Paramount last year and is making "Man About Town" for the same studio now.

Bing Crosby and Bob Burns, who also have several sources of income, are way up on top too.

It's a race between the stork and finishing the picture as Maureen O'Sullivan, wife of director John Farrow, goes into "Tarzan in Exile" today. Maureen is expecting a daughter this spring.

The picture marks the screen return after two years for Johnny Weissmuller, who's been on salary all the time from M-G-M excepting when he was swimming in Billy Rose's Extravaganza at Cleveland.

Johnny has been running a surf board rental establishment on Catalina Island and playing golf, the latter mostly every day. With Crosby and Dick Arlen, he is one of the best in the film colony, shooting around 24 hours a day. After swinging golf clubs for 24 months, he ought to have an awfully good back into form swinging tree trunks as Tarzan. Incidentally, Johnny averages 250 yards off the tee.

Issue Statement Regarding Need Of Nurses' Home

New Castle Hospital Officials
Get Word From Board
Of Education

According to a statement made today by New Castle hospital officials, the Department of Education at Harrisburg insists that if the New Castle hospital is to continue training nurses, it must provide a building containing suitable laboratories, demonstration room, library and classrooms in which the nurses may be taught, also living and recreation rooms, as well as single bedrooms.

The statement continues: Have you ever been sick and needed the services of a trained nurse? If you have, you know from personal experience what comfort and peace of mind you derived from the assurance that she has been trained and knows what to do, that she will be able to carry out the doctor's orders intelligently and efficiently.

If you sufficiently realize the necessity of training local young women in the profession of nursing, will you not assist the hospital in providing the required facilities?

Any donations, large or small, will be gratefully received by the management.

Open mind: One that lets in so many ideas there is no room for one to take root and grow into a conviction.
